The Outcome

What were the measurable outcomes from the project that demonstrate progress or success?

Most recently, phased computer hardware upgrade in progress. Initial batch of laptops and docking stations have been installed and troubleshooting substantially complete.

Describe their project management. Did they deliver items on time? How did they respond to your needs?

CorpTech has been responsive for help desk calls, escalating to more advanced tier when necessary, and providing on-the-ground tech support on request, as needed. As a "lay person," dealing with computer issues can be intimidating and frustrating, but I have found the Corporate Technologies staff to be patient and tenacious in reaching workable and reasonably timely solutions.

Corporate Technologies

What was your primary form of communication with Corporate Technologies?

- In-Person Meeting
- Email or Messaging App

What did you find most impressive or unique about this company?

I'm always favorably impressed to speak with a tech who can walk the line between knowing how to deal with computers and still being able to explain things to a non-tech person like me!

Are there any areas for improvement or something Corporate Technologies could have done differently?

Lost productivity due to computer issues is problematic, so any way to improve response time is always appreciated!
